why would an honest self respecting practitioner of energy healing call herself a superquack do i really consider myself a quack well no however there are quite a number of people who consider the work of energy healing to be quackery and at one time i was one of them after years of extensive study and success in my practice i have changed my mind while i do take my work seriously i dont take myself seriously on that score i am willing to use humor to get my point across this book is the story of my journey from a cold skeptic to a curious explorer to a believer with such passion that i have made energy healing my lifes work the accounts range from my introduction to energy work and my personal experiences beyond the physical senses to sharing information from sessions with clients using energy in the body and in the mind in order to relieve dis ease welcome to my world the blind man a phantasmography examines the complicated forces of perception imagination and phantasms of encounter in the contemporary world in considering photographs he took while he was traveling in france anthropologist and writer robert desjarlais reflects on a few pictures that show the features of a man apparently blind who begs for money at a religious site in paris frequented by tourists in perceiving this stranger and the images his appearance projects he begins to imagine what this man s life is like and how he perceives the world around him written in journal form the book narrates desjarlais s pursuit of the man portrayed in the photographs he travels to paris and tries to meet with him eventually desjarlais becomes unsure as to what he sees hears or remembers through these interpretive dilemmas he senses the complexities of perception where all is multiple shifting spectral a surge of phantasms in which the actual and the imagined are endlessly blurred and intertwined his mind shifts from thinking about photographs and images to being fixed on the visceral force of apparitions his own vision is affected in a troubling way composed of an intricate weave of text and image the blind man attends to pressing issues in contemporary life the fraught dimensions of photographic capture encounters with others and alterity the politics of looking media images of violence and abjection and the nature of fantasy and imaginative construal through a wide ranging inquiry into histories of imagination desjarlais inscribes the need for a phantasmography a writing of phantasms a graphic inscription of the flows and currents of fantasy and fabulation this book draws upon domestication science to undertake a radical reappraisal of the jurisprudence of property and intellectual property bringing together animal studies and legal philosophy it articulates a critique of dominant property models and relationships from the perspective of cognitive ethology domestication science and animal behaviour in doing so a radical new picture of property emerges focusing on the emergence of property models through prevailing ideas of human domestication and settlement the book challenges the anthropocentrism that informs standard approaches to ownership and to authorship utilising a wide range of examples from ethology and animal studies the book thus rethinks the very nature of property as uniquely human this highly original contribution to the fields of property and intellectual property will appeal not only to legal scholars in these areas as well as in animal law but also to legal theorists and others working in the social sciences with interests in posthumanism and animal studies cesar grafia s work critically examines the continual rebirth of cultural romances on the part of literaiy intellectuals grafia s disdain for contrived rejections of modernity and for grand destructive gestures is combined with his intense appreciation of the romantic sensibility fact and symbol embodies grafta s views of the enterprise of cultural sociology in which both words are given equal play this book consists of seven essays five shorter pieces on the relation of art to american democracy are bracketed by two long essays the first on the literaiy critique of modern life the last on spanish american cultural nationalism among the temes covered throughout the book are attitudes prevalent during the post romantic era the french impressionists art museums the transformation of the industrial and commercial elite of america and spanish american literary utopians in a new introduction written especially for this edition marc galanter outlines graiiia s ideas and explains what he was aiming to do when he originally wrote these essays fact and symbol presents graiiia s unique viewpoint and will be enjoyed by scholars of art and literature as well as sociologists one can well appreciate why this book was nominated for a national book award on its original release it is a pioneering achievement in the sociology of culture chinese poetry in times of mind mayhem and money is a groundbreaking study covering a range of contemporary authors and issues from haizi to yin lichuan and from poetic rhythm to exile bashing its rigorous scholarship literary sensitivity and lively style make it eminently fit for classroom use baudelaire composed the series of prose poems known as paris spleen between 1855 and his death in 1867 he attached great importance to his work in this then unusual form asking which one of us in his moments of ambition has not dreamed of the miracle of a poetic prose musical without rhythm and without rhyme supple enough and rugged enough to adapt itself to the lyrical impulses of the soul the undulations of reverie the jibes of conscience a collection of poetry prose drama and fiction written from the sixteenth century through the twentieth century by various writers from around the world the baudelaire who wrote this curious novella in the mid 1840s was not yet that more famous baudelaire who would create the poems of lesfieurs du mal nor was he a writer with sensibilities entirely alien to those that produced the poems la fan arlo part bitter fictionalized autobiography part parody part ambiguous poetic exploration and the poet s only completed work of fictional prose is very much the work of an apprentice beginning to find his way in terms only of plot the story is slender enough trying to help an acquaintance reclaim her husband from an infatuation with la fanfarlo the young poet samuel cramer himself falls in love with the exotic dancer and slides from the pursuit of his poetry into the commercialized world of advertising and politics amazon time for baudelaire suggests it s time that yale french studies devote an issue to the poet who more than any other inaugurated the unfinished epoch of modernity it also urges that we take or make time for thinking about the specific ways in which poetry and perhaps poetry alone allows a historical concept like modernity to become accessible in the first place finally it asks what time means when it comes to reading the relation between baudelaire s writings and the moment the event the era and our capacity to experience them together or in isolation from one another
